Back-to-School Checklist

FIRST STEPS

- Call the school district with questions about your child's school
- Find out what day classes start and what time your child should arrive
- Enroll your child (if she is not already registered from the previous year)
- Fill out emergency contact sheets and any other required forms

CHECK MEDICAL REQUIREMENTS

- Make sure your child has all required immunizations
- Schedule a physical exam for your child if needed to participate in school activities
- Get your child's vision checked before school starts if he is due for an exam
- Notify the principal's office, the school nurse, and your child's teachers about any health problems or medications

STOCK UP ON SCHOOL SUPPLIES

- Check the school website or call for a list of required supplies
- Find out whether students will store supplies at school or bring them home each day
- Buy a backpack or bag to carry daily items
- Review the school dress code
- Buy school uniforms and gym clothes, if necessary

LEARN ABOUT THE SCHOOL

- Find out whether the teacher prefers to communicate by phone, e-mail, or written note
- Know what your child is expected to learn in her grade level
- Familiarize yourself with the information on the school website
- Note the phone numbers for checking school closures or reporting absences
- Find out the procedure for taking your child out of school early
- Read the school handbook and make sure your child understands the rules
- Review the school's federal "report card"

PLAN TO BE INVOLVED

- Mark school events on the family calendar
- Attend the back-to-school program
- Schedule and attend parent-teacher conferences
- Meet leaders of the parent-teacher group

Starke County Historical Society loans carousel horse to Library

A 1920 German antique Carousel Horse now looks down upon children in the Henry F. Schricker Public Library. Fred and Judy Parker from Boca Raton, Florida, formerly from Starke County, had donated this beautiful horse to the Starke County Museum a few years ago. It has been on display at the Museum, waiting for a special place worthy of its antique value. Because of space limitations at the Museum, the Board of Directors began looking for another location in the community where it could be properly displayed. With the building of the new children's area in the Library in Knox, they wondered if it might be displayed there. Dave Bullock, a Library board member, consulting with Sheila Urwiler, Librarian for the Henry F. Schricker Library, and with the help of his son, Wesley, built a mount for it. The Carousel Horse is now on loan to the Library and beautifully displayed above the reference desk in the library's new children's addition.
